- S&P, 28% in Nov, 2.5% loss in Dec
- Federal reserve cuts
- elections - equity markets increase, bond markets decrease
- economic growth indicated, expect headwinds (slow, but NOT negative)
- 70% GDP
- Quarter and year report: Marc
 - Magnificent 7

APPROVED BY THE 112TH SENATE ON THE 13TH OF FEBRUARY 2025

- narrow market, tech sector via NASDAQ
- S&P, 11 different sectors, varied performance shown
- 25% increase; tech 37%, comm 40%
- have become quite expensive in these sectors
- 4.4%, emerging markets 8% increase
- international markets underperform in comparison to domestic markets
- Federal Reserve lowered interest rates, yield interest rate up, bond rate down
- challenging quarter for fixed income
- CPI; pain of inflation, will continue to come down, however not as significantly as initially indicated due to higher specs utilized
- 7% increase, bull case +22%, bear case -24% likely due to new Trump administration
- immigration, undocumented workers = 5% workforce
- Will be incredibly disruptive if this workforce is lost
- tax cuts, 15% corporate tax rate, could add 4% to earnings, tariffs unknown (counterparty reaction TBD)
- Fiscal austerity is a huge unknown
- What transpires? Holds? Due to the large range

Portfolio: Dustin

- 2.4% increase and 7% increase
- 8.4% increase via concentrated market
- 20%+ returns on S&P
- 1.9% decrease reflecting the Dec market, equity market narrative
- value style, ETF, shift to a broad market has benefited somewhat
- Decent absolute returns
- Shift in the last couple months indicate economic resilience
- hurts smaller companies
- 9.9% and 10% increase in cap names
- dollar strength remains quite strong
- questions on the new administration and its effects
- EFA ETHA, 7-8% decrease for the quarter, 0.5% decrease for fiscal year
- emerging markets came under pressure
- China had a nice run in calendar 23, 40% rise, met w/ volatility now
- Rates rise, inverse relationship
- longer the inflation, longer the rates will be elevated
- Nice exposure to several areas of the bond market
- yield/income generates 4%

- 1.6% increase in fiscal year
- CASH; average previous 20 quarter, and calculate w/ spending rate
- *$285,000 remaining spending allotment for fiscal year!!!

Sen. Watson: reaffirming the remaining allotment ($285,000), liquid and freeze

- fully liquid, easy to meet the memo and needs, Dustin

Sen. Bachiller: inclusion of ASUH allocated scholarships?

- should cover the scholarships (Fall 24), Healani; has NOT gone out yet

Sen. Watson: referring to the liquid remaining allotment

President Reed: plan events, allocate the money, BOR issue as well

Bonny: remainder in terms of the maximum amount of withdrawal?

- Calculation
- $435,000 total, now $285,000 remaining total for fiscal year
- based on BOR policy
- President and Healani work together to execute withdrawals
- Fall and Spring allocations are separate, UAA coordination
- If there is a need for greater expenditures, then it can be done
- Kualii, $75,000

Sen. Watson: questioning the velocity of liquid allotment allocation

- Couple day process, request, receive memo, wire thereafter
